Stainless steel front flap mounting bracket

Due to lots of front flap mounting brackets failure, Renault Sport is proposing new ones made in stainless steel 3mm thickness. These new parts have been tested during the two test sessions at Motorland on several cars without any issue.

Consequently, one set of stainless steel brackets per car have been distributed to all the teams present for the Motorland event. These stainless steel brackets are allowed to be fitted on cars from now, in place of the current aluminium flap brackets.

If no issues are encountered by the end of the Motorland event, the new type of bracket will be available from your Renault Sport spare part dealer. References and confirmation to be issued later on.

Headrest pin fasteners

To ease the headrest release:

- the original headrest pin fasteners can be replaced by another model/type.
- the original Renault Sport "Pull" strip can be replaced by another type of strip from a contrasting colour.
